DEVELOPMENT BRANCH.

To

N.Rama Rao, Esq., B.A., B.L.,
Secretary to the Government of
His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore,
Development Departments,
Bangalore.

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.D.10233/G.G.100-26-2, dated the23rd May 1927 and reminder thereto, requesting to be informed of the work of preparing a Coin Catalogue may not be taken up npw and entrusted to Dr.M.H.Krishna Iyengar without prejudice to his legitimate University work, I am directed by the Vice-Chancellor to propose the following arrangements:-

(i) The Special Numismatic Office which was organised in June 1920 for the purpose of Cataloguing the Coins in the Government Museum, Bangalore and which was subsequently wound up may now be revived in Mysore under the name of the "Numismatic Research Office" with Dr.M.H.Krishna Iyengar,M.A.,D.Lit.(Lond.), as Officer in charge under the control of the Mysore University.

(ii) 2.The Coin collection of the Government Museum,Bangalore, excluding the Mysore Coins required for the Public show-case may be transferred to Mysore and along with the Coin collection of the Archaeological Department and the small collection in the Maharaja's College placed in the charge of the Numismatic Office. This transfer has two advantages, viz.(i) it would give the University the best opportunity of obtaining one of the few great collections of Coins found in India, and (ii) a proper arrangement and exhibition of this Coin collection would form a Museum highly attractive and useful to students of South Indian History and Archaeology.

(iii) 3.As regards accommodation, the Office and laboratory may be housed in one or two rooms in the Maharaja's College, where the presence of the specimens has become quite necessary in connection with the new M.A.courses in Culture History and Archaeology and the same rooms may also be utilised for the Anthropoligical laboratory and Museum required for the College. For the sake of safety, such portions of the collection as are not immediately required may be permitted to be deposited in sealed boxes in the District Treasury,Mysore.

(iv) 4.The following appliances will be necessary for the Office and Laboratory. If they cannot be supplied otherwise, the suggestions,made herein may be considered.

(i) A good large safe:

It is stated that a large one lying in the Mysore Guest Quarters was offered for this purpose in 1922,that there are two in the Oriental Library building and that one of these three could ~~be~~ perhaps be spared.

(ii) A Chemical balance,with sets of grain and gramme weights and two pairs of calipers.

It is understood that the Principal,Central College had formerly supplied these and could perhaps do so again.

(iii) Four printer's type-distribution cases.

Formerly supplied by the Government Press,Bangalore and could now be supplied by the Government Branch Press,Mysore.

(iv) A magnifying lense.

One specially meant for reading Coins is in the possession of the Archaeological department and is used only occasionally.

(v) A Typewriter with carriage for statements.

One had been supplied formerly by the Secretariat, Bangalore.

(vi) Show cases:

Two are stated to be available in the Office of the Maharaja's College.

(vii) The Numismatic books in the libraries of the Archaeological Department and of the Oriental Library, the Archaeological reference books belonging to the library of the Government Museum, Bangalore, and the books, drafts papers and other articles deposited in 1922, with the Registrar, General and Revenue Secretariat.

(viii) Furniture.

Formerly supplied from the Secretariat Stores, Bangalore, and could not be supplied from the Guests' Quarters, Mysore.

(ix) Stationery

Formerly supplied by the Government Stationery Depot, Bangalore.

V 5. Staff, contingencies &c.

It is reported that the office had a full-time Typist clerk on Rs 45/- and a literate peon on Rs 13/-. But as the Mysore Office will be working only part-time, a part-time typist will suffice. A full time literate attender will however be necessary and will be useful also during the lecturing hours for Archaeology and Anthropology. A provision of Rs. 35/- a month would therefore suffice for the pay, and allowances of these two members of the staff. 420/-

A sum of Rs 250/- for contingencies, T.A. grant for the purchase of special books etc.

As Dr. Krishna Iyengar to whom the work is proposed to be entrusted is willing to devote to the Cataloguing work the mornings without prejudice to his present work in the University and as he has to sacrifice his private hours therefor, the Vice-Chancellor recommends that Dr. Krishna Iyengar may be given an allowance of Rs 50/- per mensem for this work.

Sir,

In reply to your letter No.D.3779/G.G.100-26-5 dated 14th October 1927, calling for my remarks on the proposal to remove the coin collection from the Museum to Mysore, I have the honour to state that I am still of opinion that the removal is not in the interest of either the Museum or the General Public and the student in History and Numismatics.

I have already on several occasions stated that the museum should be devoted to history and arts only and natural history exhibits be accommodated in a new building in the Lal-Bagh. This is the only way of logical development of these respective sections both for general interest and special study.

The proposal to devote the museum to only Mysore products in all sections will leave us very much where we are and precludes any sections being systematically arranged and made complete for serving a real educational purpose.

I quite agree that with the sections located as above mentioned the Mysore products and specimens will have to receive prior consideration but under many items it is necessary for systematic study to complement the collection with specimens from outside Mysore. My intention was to keep in such cases labels of a distinct colour. Under history, Numismatics is an important sub-section, and while the Mysore coins alone would illustrate Mysore history, but for study of the subject a general collection of coins (especially Indian) is necessary and I think it will be a grave error to break up our and [illegible]

I do not doubt the utility of the collection for students of th University but the interest of the general public who have no access to the University, is infinitely wider and the maintenance of the -- collection in its completeness is desirable. For the ~~the~~ study at the University electroplates could easily be prepared and would serve the purpose.

I fully agree that the work of preparing the catalogue should be taken up again and if the officer cannot come and do the work here the collection may be temporarily transferred to Mysore.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

Offg.Director of Agriculture.

The work of preparing a catalogue of coins which is of great value in the reconstruction and understanding of Indian and Mysore History, had to be kept in abeyance for some years from 1941, chiefly owing to want of the proper technical facilities. In view, however, now, of the availability of the services of Dr. M.H. Krishna Iyengar who has specialised in numismatic, and of the importance of reviving the work, Govt. approve of the proposals made by the University for organising a Numismatic Research Office and are accordingly pleased to direct as follows: -

(i) Dr. M. H. K.Iyengar will be the Officer in charge of the Numismatic Research Office, under the control of the Mysore University. For this additional work, he will be given a duty allowance of Rs.50/- per mensem.

(ii) The clerical staff of the Office will consist of a part-time typist (to be drafted for work from any of the offices at Mysore under the control of the University) and a full-time literate attender. the cost on account of the part-time allowance and pay not exceeding Rs.35/- per mensem.

(iii) A sum of Rs.250/- will be allowed for contingencies travelling allowance charges, purchase of special books etc., etc.,

(iv) The coin collection of the Govt. Museum, Bangalore excluding the coins required for the show cases there, along with the coin collection of the Archaeological Department and that in the Maharaja's College, will form the nucleus for the new Numismatic Research Office at Mysore. The Office will be provided accommodation in the Maharaja's College provided, however that such portions of the valuable coin collection as are not (constantly) required may be deposited for safe custody in the District Treasury, Mysore.

(v) As regards appliances and other equipment Government agree that it is not necessary to purchase them. The Registrar Mysore University is requested to spare the furniture required for the office. The Chief Secretary to Govt. is requested to lend an iron safe from the Secretariat Stores at Mysore, temporarily, till the University should purchase one for the New Office. He is also requested to return the reference books, files and other papers and articles deposited in the Secretariat at the time of the wind up of the old Office in 1928. The Direct of Archaeological Researches and the Supdt. Govt. Museum are requested to send numismatic books in their respective libraries to the Officer in charge of the new Office. The Director of Archaeological Researches is also requested to spare the magnifying lens (which is said to be available in his office, ~~spare~~) meant for reading coins. The Principal, Central College, and the Principal, Maharaja's College are requested to spare a chemical balance (with sets of grain and gramme weights) and two pairs of calipers and two show cases reported to be immediately available in their -- respective colleges. The Supdt. Govt. Printing Press is requested to arrange for making the required number of printer's type distribution cases available from the Govt. Branch Press, Mysore. The Supdt. Govt. Stationery is requested to supply the articles of stationery noted in the accompanying list, to the officer in charge of the new office. The above arrangements are sanctioned temporarily, for a period of 3 years, from 1928-29. The necessary provision on account of the cost of establishment (including pay and allowances) contingencies, special charges etc., as detailed in sub paras (i) (ii) and (iii) above will be made in the University Budget for the next year.
